Feature tracks

STORM CHASER
CRAWL BEFORE YOU WALK
EYES OF A CHILD

Australian artist Steve McNaughton has earned high praise as one of Sydney's best contemporary rock songwriters, whilst achieving independent chart success and much overseas airplay. His music varies from solid radio friendly hooks' to passionate, upfront and personal material.

His 3rd CD, the Storm Chaser album is by far his best to date, with songs that express some definite groove and attitude! The opening title-track Storm Chaser is a high energy rock song that fully captures the fury of nature across the United States' Mid-West.

The associated music video clip, inspired by Scott Currens and other storm chasers, gives a unique insight into the chasers' pursuits when the weather hots up and the plains turn violent.

The brass kicks arse at the start of Crawl Before You Walk, which then breaks into a ska bluebeat feel, followed by an extremely hooky chorus. "If this is not a hit, or if someone doesn't cover it, the world is definitely nuts!" (Gavin Fitzgerald, Songwriting Society of Australia)

The anthem-like Eyes Of A Child features a military style foot stomping rhythm with a message. A great chorus that could be sung by a multitude, with universal thoughts and ideas encapsulated in one song. The juxtaposition of innocence against the real world.
